

This information will help you write a risk assessment for your school visit to The Postal Museum.

Planning visits

We strongly recommend that you make a planning visit to risk assess potential hazards in the museum and on your journey. To book your visit email schools@postalmuseum.org

Supervision

Teachers and adult helpers are responsible for the health and safety of their group and should supervise students at all times.

It is important to meet our minimum ratios to provide adequate supervision on the Mail Rail ride and in Sorted! (if relevant).

Minimum adult: student ratios (not including additional SEND support):

EYFS Nursery	1:3
EYFS Reception	1:4
KS1	1:4
KS2	1:6
KS3	1:10
KS4+	1:15

Groups and group leaders

Split your class into equal-sized groups. Assign all adult helpers to a group with a group leader. Write the groups on your Itinerary. Classes should stay in these small groups throughout the visit.

Lost students

Tell our staff immediately if any students become separated from their group and you are unable to find them. We have procedures to deal with these situations efficiently.

Museum staff and volunteers

All staff and volunteers have undergone a standard police check. Schools Team staff delivering sessions have undergone a Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS) check.

First aid

There is a first aid room for minor injuries and illness. Tell our staff immediately if one of your group requires assistance.

HAZARD IDENTIFICATION

Any changes or hazards that arise on the day of your visit will be included in your Welcome briefing.
